WHAT I'M THANKFUL FOR THIS HOLIDAY SEASON

The holiday season always leads me to reflect on all I have to be thankful for. This year is no different. I have a tremendous amount to be grateful for. I'm thankful that God allowed me to see another holiday season filled with family and friends who I care deeply for. I'm also grateful for my health and strength that allows me to continue fighting for my clients and to enjoy life. Health is something people often take for granted until they no longer have it.

What I'm Thankful for this Holiday Season

The holiday season always leads me to reflect on all I have to be thankful for. This year is no different. I have a tremendous amount to be grateful for.

I'm thankful that God allowed me to see another holiday season filled with family and friends who I care deeply for. I'm also grateful for my health and strength that allows me to continue fighting for my clients and enjoy life. Health is something people often take for granted until they no longer have it.

Most importantly, I am thankful for all of you who trust me with your cases. Whether it is a serious personal injury case, workplace injury, or criminal case, I do not take the trust you have placed in me lightly. There are countless other lawyers you could have chosen, but you chose me. I promise to work to maintain your trust each and every day.

My sincere gratitude also extends to my former clients who I consider friends that consistently refer their friends and family to my law firm for legal representation. There's no greater compliment I can receive than a phone call from someone who says that he or she were recommended to contact me by a former client. It means that I did something right, and you were pleased with my representation enough to recommend that your friend or loved one contact me. Your support through referrals is much appreciated.

The Holiday season is a wonderful time of year. I want to encourage each of you to reflect on things you are grateful for this holiday season. My thoughts and prayers are with each of you during this time. I pray that your holiday season is filled with immense joy and pleasure.

— DON'T DRINK AND DRIVE THIS HOLIDAY SEASON

With the holiday season comes the time-honored tradition of parties. From office holiday parties, ugly Christmas sweater parties, to your boss's Christmas party at his charming house on the lake; they're plenty festive occasions during this time of year. With all of the parties, there's usually one thing in common, free alcohol. Please feel free to have a good time at all of the parties this holiday season. However, please do not drink and drive! There are so many alternatives available these days, so there is indeed no excuse for drinking and driving. Plan ahead and have a designated driver. You could also call an Uber, Lyft, or even call a cab. Drinking and driving puts you in danger and also everyone on the road. The risk is not worth it. Have fun this holiday season, but please remember do not drink and drive!
